71 Year Old Shares Life Lessons For Young People

1. How to talk to people: Listening is a superpower.
2. How to learn from people: If you're the smartest person in the room, you're in the wrong room. Hang out with, and learn from, people smarter than yourself.
3. How to be interesting: The more you are interested in others, the more interesting they'll find you.
4. How to save money: Live as cheaply as you can when you're young, for at least six months. Own as little as possible.
5. How to earn respect: Be honest about your faults. Nothing elevates a person higher than taking responsibility.

6. How to handle rude people: Treat their behavior like an affliction or illness they have. This will make it easier to have empathy towards them.
7. How to find your passion: The best way to start is to be an expert on one thing.
8. How to raise confident kids: Reinforce their sense of belonging to a family.
9. How to raise smart kids: When they ask an endless string of "Why?" questions, don't answer all of them. The smartest reply is, "I don't know. What do you think?"

10. How to buy and sell stock: Each time you're ready to buy or sell stock, ask yourself, "What do I know that they don't?"

11. How to spend wisely: Select a few interests that you can gleefully splurge on.

12. How much to tip: As long as the experience was pleasant, always tip at least between 15% and 20%. And if you stop to listen to a musician for more than a minute, you owe them a dollar.

13. How to be resilient: There are three things you need in life: the ability to not give up on something until it works; the ability to give up on something that doesn't work; and the trust in other people to help you distinguish between the two.

14. How to boost your salary: The best time to negotiate a salary for a new job is the moment they say they want you, and not before.

15. How to identify imposter syndrome: When you create things that only you can do. You are the ordained. It is your destiny to work on things that only you can do.

16. How to be happy: Unhappiness comes from wanting what other people have. Happiness comes from wanting what you already have.

17. How to get better at public speaking: Watch a recording of yourself speaking. It will be shocking and painful, but it's the best way to improve.

Continued....

18. How to give a proper apology: Express genuine empathy with the other person, take responsibility.

19. How to ask stupid questions: Just do it. Ninety-nine percent of the time, everyone else is thinking the same question and is too embarrassed to ask.

20. How to make good decisions: Ask yourself, "Which choice will pay off now more than later?" The easy choice pays off right away, but the best choice will pay off at the end.

21. How to measure wealth: It's not by the things you can buy, but by the things that no money can buy.

22. How to pick the right advice: Advice like these are not laws — they are simply hats! If one doesn't fit, try another.

Matthew 28

19Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, 20and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.”

2 Corinthians 5

17 Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here!

Mark 16

16Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved,
but whoever does not believe will be condemned.

WHY I CONVERTED

Weekly Devotional

Hebrews 10

22let us draw near to God with a sincere heart and with the full assurance that faith brings, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water.
